The school must begin from the principle that its educational program is intentionally directed to the growth of the whole person.

The Catholic School n.55

Education in our school, covers the full dimensions of being human; academic, social, spiritual, physical and emotional.

The building and sustaining of constructive relationships within the learning community are the key to engaging learners.

Learning needs to be rich, real and relevant.

Teaching in our school is inclusive, acknowledges and builds on the strengths of the learner and honours diversity.

We are committed to fostering young men and women of character and faith whose individual gifts are nurtured to their highest potential so that they can contribute effectively to our society and the stewardship of our world.

Through active pastoral care, a pathways program and mentoring, we strive to map a pathway to success for every student in the school.

Challenging progressive courses utilising computers and contemporary digital media as tools for learning are integrated for all students across all years. Art, Drama and Music are integrated into the curriculum across all year levels.

Academically challenging pathways are offered for those aspiring to Tertiary and further education.

Students aspiring to Trades and Apprenticeships are supported by our Trade Training Centre and our school based Apprenticeship program.

Students at St James Catholic College have many chances to let their lights shine within and outside our community. Through sport and College representation, leadership, charitable works and peer support.
